RE: COVID-19 Update: Health and safety reminder

As of 6th March 2020, NSW Health today confirmed three new cases of COVID-19, bringing the total number of positive cases to 28 in the state since the outbreak began.

Since the announcement of the outbreak in January, ANHF has been proactive in taking reasonable steps in health screening, sharing of factual information, and regularly updating everyone to ensure the safety and wellbeing of everyone. This is our attempt to minimise the spread of COVID-19 outbreak in our community and in our aged care homes.

I am seeking everyone's cooperation and assistance to be vigilant in promoting a culture of social responsibility, practicing safe hand-washing hygiene and social distancing. If you or any members of your family are unwell, such as experiencing flu-like symptoms - fever, coughing, sore throat, sneezing, difficulty in breathing, please seek medical attention and inform your site supervisor / ANHF management.

We would advise you and your immediate family to observe and inform us if anyone is feeling unwell and or displaying flu-like symptoms, please contact your GP and seek medical attention.

We are mindful there are many confusing sources of information available on different platforms – social media, Facebook, WeChat, unconfirmed news, news around the topic of COVID-19. Whenever you are in doubt, you may also contact the National Coronavirus Health Information Line on 1800 020 080 or check the latest media release from authorised source such as

Thank you for your patience and understanding. Should you discuss any concerns, please do not hesitate to contact relevant ANHF management.

Yours sincerely,

Ada Cheng
Chief Executive Officer
